

Diseases in Horses

A combination of Global warming and the ever increasing number of horses being moved internationally, there is a real and significant risk that we will see diseases in Europe and in the UK that we have never seen before.